The 2021 Joint Meeting at Furnace Town

27 & 28 March 2021

Demonstrator: Peter Renzetti

Hosted by the Furnace Town Blacksmiths Guild (FTBG) & the Mid-Atlantic Smiths Association (MASA)

Both Saturday and Sunday will be a half-day demonstration of projects from beginner to beginning intermediate and then a half-day hands-on workshop supervised by Pete.

We will have Iron-in-the-Hat (IITH) on Saturday, so bring an item or two.

The registration cost is $ 60 per person. After 21 March the cost per person is $ 80. The cost includes coffee & donuts each morning and a catered lunch each noon. Supper on Saturday will be in a local restaurant but is not included in the cost. We plan on having a slide show on Saturday either before or after supper. The workshop portion will be limited to approximately 20 active participants depending on how many anvils we have, however the presentation and IITH are open to all as is watching the workshop. You are encouraged to bring your tools and, as anvils are in short supply, an anvil with stand. Space for tailgating is available. Let Mark know ahead of time, please.

The event will run from 9am – 4:30pm-ish both days.

A few words about the demonstrator: Pete Renzetti

Pete is a highly accomplished blacksmith and metal worker. He is one of the founding members of the Artist Blacksmith Association of North America (ABANA). He was a major part of the Yellin works. If you attend the Gichner Hammer-In, Pete is there making “Puddle People” and giving advice. He has been a demonstrator at many of the ABANA conferences with cohorts building intricate things like a door knocker and a coffee grinder. He wants you to bring your project questions, problems, and/or difficulties to the Joint meeting and he will try to find a solution.
